HUM-350 ETHICS: 3.00 Credits

The primary purpose of the integrative 350 core course is to develop interdisciplinary abilities in ethical clarification with reference to at least two major contemporary issues. These courses focus primarily on ethical concerns. Topics include the following subjects: ART AND CENSORSHIP Focuses on the social and ethical implications of the artist's creative freedom, particularly how artistic freedom related to personal freedom. Considers issues common to the visual, plastic, musical, and theatrical arts. Writing integrated. PROPAGANDA Traces the origins, examines the practices and considers the consequences of propaganda in both totalitarian and democratic societies. The ethical implication of propaganda will be explored by applying relevant ethical and moral codes to a variety of case studies. Writing integrated. HUMAN RIGHTS AND APPLIED ETHICS Investigates through critical reasoning students' own value systems and the assumptions implicit in assumptions of and justifications for human rights. Writing integrated. ETHICS AND ECOLOGY Introduces the nature of ethical reasoning in relation to the ecology and the impact of human culture and scientific thought on ecology. Students face questions arising from their ethical obligations to each other, to non-human species, and to the planet itself. Writing integrated. ETHICS AND TECHNOLOGY Explores ethical challenges of living and working in a technological world. Students consider the personal, social, and philosophical implications of global technology. Writing integrated. POWER, PROGRESS AND ETHICS Contemporary ethical issues, such as human health and the environment, will be treated from a variety of scientific and literary perspectives. The complex consequences of decision making in science on community welfare will be explored. Discussion, personal and literary accounts and social history will provide a variety of perspectives on these issues. WOMEN IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY Ethical issues confronted by women worldwide, through a study of literary and historical texts and through their own writing. Cross-listed with SS 350. Writing integrated. Pre-requisite: Completion of the skills component of the General Education Core or permission of the instructor. Cross-Listed with SS-350.
